INDEX

TO THE

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTIETH VOLUME

OF THE

North American Review.

ABBOTT, LYMAN. The Power of Mr. Moody's Ministry, 263.
Adulterations, Food, 548.
Afrikanders in Natal, The, 212.
After Orthodoxy, What? 585.
ALGER, R. A. America's Attitude Toward England, 332.
America—German Feeling Toward England and America, 240; American Misgovernment of Cuba, 284; America's Attitude Toward England, 332; America and the War, 337; The American Policy in China, 642.
"Americanism" in France, The End of, 420.
"Americanism," The Genesis of, 679.
ANDERSON, THOMAS M. Our Rule in the Philippines, 272.
An Obligation of Empire, 493.
Antagonism of England and Russia, 884.
Are Homogeneous Divorce Laws in all the States Desirable? 405.
Army, The British, 1.
Asia, Great Britain in, 897.
ATKINSON, EDWARD. Eastern Commerce: What is it Worth? 295.
Australian Federation and its Basis, 772.
Authors, Disappearing, 395.

BARAIL, COUNT DU. A French General's Defense of the Boers, 538.
BARTON, EDMUND. Australian Federation and its Basis, 772.
BELMONT, PERRY. The President's War Power and an Imperial Tariff, 433.
BLOCH, JEAN DE. Why England Should Stop the War, 646.
Boers—Origin, Duration, and Outcome of the War, 6; England and the Transvaal, 9; England, the Transvaal and the European Powers, 25; Great Britain on the War Path, 34; Some Boer Characteristics, 43; The Military Situation in South Africa, 145; Strategical Problems in South Africa, 168; Military Problems in South Africa, 192; The Dutch in South Africa, 198; The Afrikanders in Natal, 212; The Danger of Personal Rule in South Africa, 225; Realities of the South African War, 305; The Merits of the Transvaal Dispute, 312; The Doom of the Boer Oligarchies, 327; America's Attitude Toward England, 332; Could the War Have Been Avoided? 335; America and the War, 337; The Responsibility of Cecil Rhodes, 348; Why British Workmen Condemn the War, 518; A French General's Defense of the Boers, 538; Why England Should Stop the War, 646; How England Should Treat the Vanquished Boers, 812; Cecil Rhodes's Future, 857.
BOULGER, DEMETRIUS C. Antagonism of England and Russia, 884.
BRIGGS, CHARLES A. The Present Crisis in the Church of England, 87.
British and Russian Diplomacy, 871.
British Army, The, 1.
British Volunteer System, The, 745.
British Workmen, Why They Condemn the War, 518.
BROOKS, SYDNEY. Congress and Parliament, 78; America and the War, 337.
BROWNLOW, Rt. Hon. EARL. The British Volunteer System, 745.
BRYAN, W. J. The Issue in the Presidential Campaign, 753.
Buller, Sir Redvers, 109.

CAMBRIDGE, THE DUKE OF. The British Army, 1.
Cecil Rhodes's Future, 857.
Census of 1900, The, 99.
CHAMBERLAIN, MARY ENDICOTT. An Obligation of Empire, 493.
Charter Needs of Great Cities, 850.
Chief Causes of Discontent in India, 384.
China—The Powers and the Partition of China, 634; The American Policy in China, 642.

Church Unity, The Present Crisis in the Church of England, and, 87.
CLARK, CHARLES SYDNEY. The Future of the National Guard, 730.
COLER, BIRD S. Charter Needs of Great Cities, 850.
Congress and Parliament, 78.
COUBERTIN, PIERRE DE. The Meeting of the Olymian Games, 802.
Could the War Have Been Avoided? 335.
Crisis, The Present, in the Church of England, 87.
Cuba, American Misgovernment of, 284.
CUST, HENRY. The Dutch in South Africa, 198.
Danger of Personal Rule in South Africa, The, 225.
"David Harum," 410.
DELBRÜCK, HANS. England, the Transvaal and the European Powers, 25.
Diplomacy, British and Russian, 871.
DILKE, Rt. Hon. SIR CHARLES W. The American Policy in China, 642.
Disappearing Authors, 395.
Discontent in India, Chief Causes of, 384.
Divorce Laws, Are Homogeneous, in all the States Desirable? 405.
Doom of the Boer Oligarchies, The, 327.
Dutch in South Africa, The, 198.

Eastern Commerce: What is it Worth? 295.
Empire, An Obligation of, 493.
End of "Americanism" in France, The, 420.
England—The British Army, 1; England and the Transvaal, 9; England, the Transvaal, and the European Powers, 25; Great Britain on the War Path, 34; The Present Crisis in the Church of England and its Bearings on Church Unity, 87; German Feeling Toward England and America, 240; America's Attitude Toward England, 332; The Responsibility of Cecil Rhodes, 348; The Proposed Hay-Pauncefote Treaty, 357; Some Characteristics of English Fiction, 504; Why British Workmen Condemn the War, 518; Our European Trade, 528; The Powers and the Partition of China, 634; Why England Should Stop the War, 646; The British Volunteer System, 745; How England Should Treat the Vanquished Boers, 812; Cecil Rhodes's Future, 857; British and Russian Diplomacy, 871; Antagonism of England and Russia, 884; Great Britain in Asia, 897.
Erie Canal and Transportation, The, 121.
ETHERIDGE, J. ST. CLAIR. The Genesis of "Americanism," 679.
European Powers, England, the Transvaal and the, 25.
European Trade, Our, 528.
Exposition of 1900, The, 472.

Far East, The—Eastern Commerce: What is it Worth? 295; The Great Siberian Railway, 593; Japan and Russia in the Far East, 609; The Powers and the Partition of China, 634; The American Policy in China, 642; Great Britain in Asia, 897.
Fiction—Some Novels of 1899, 253; Disappearing Authors, 393; "David Harum," 410; Some Characteristics of English Fiction, 504.
Filipino Appeal to the People of the United States, A, 54.
FORAKER, J. B. The United States and Puerto Rico, 464.
Food Adulterations, 548.
France—The End of "Americanism" in France, 420; The Exposition of 1900, 472; Our European Trade, 528; A French General's Defense of the Boers, 538; The Powers and the Partition of China, 634.
Future of the National Guard, The, 730.

Genesis of "Americanism," The, 679.
Germany—German Feeling Toward England and America, 246; Our European Trade, 528; The Powers and the Partition of China, 634.
Great Britain in Asia, 897.
Great Cities, Charter Needs of, 850.
GOSSE, EDMUND. Sir Redvers Buller, 109.
Governed, We are Too Much, 367.
Government, Science and the, 666.
GOWER, G. LEVESON. The British Army, 1.
Great Britain on the War Path, 34.
Great Siberian Railway, The, 593.
GREY, Rt. Hon. EARL. England and the Transvaal, 9.

Hay-Pauncefote, The Proposed, Treaty, 357.
HAZELTINE, MAYO W. The Proposed Hay-Pauncefote Treaty, 357.
Hell? What Has Become of, 837.
HENLEY, W. E. Some Novels of 1899, 253.
Hermitage, The Picture Gallery of the, 134.
HILL, DAVID B. We are Too Much Governed, 367.
HOBBES, JOHN OLIVER. "David Harum," 410.
HOENIG, FRITZ. Strategical Problems in South Africa, 168.
HOFFMAN, FRANK SARGENT. The Scientific Method in Theology, 575.
HOLMSTREM, VLADIMIR. Great Britain on the War Path, 34.
HOWARD, O. O. Military Problems in South Africa, 192.
How England Should Treat the Vanquished Boers, 812.
HUTTEN, THOMAS C. The Doom of the Boer Oligarchies, 327.

India, Chief Causes of Discontent in, 384.
Issue in the Presidential Campaign, The, 753.

JAMES, HENRY. The Letters of Robert Louis Stevenson, 61.
Japan—Japan and Russia in the Far East, 609; The Powers and the Partition of China, 634.
John Ruskin, 553.

LACY, GEORGE. Some Boer Characteristics, 43.
LANDOR, A. HENRY SAVAGE. Chief Causes of Discontent in India, 384.
Letters of Robert Louis Stevenson, The, 61.
LEYDS, W. J. Origin, Duration and Outcome of the War, 6.
Literature, Modern Persian, 827.
LORNE, THE MARQUIS OF. Realities of the South African War, 305.

MABINI, APOLINARIO. A Filipino Appeal to the People of the United States, 54.
MACVANE, S. M. Could the War Have Been Avoided? 335.
MADDISON, F. Why British Workmen Condemn the War, 518.
MAHAN, A. T. The Merits of the Transvaal Dispute, 312.
MCCARTHY, JUSTIN. Disappearing Authors, 395.
MASON, W. E. Food Adulterations, 548.
Meeting of the Olympian Games, The, 802.
Merits of the Transvaal Dispute, The, 312.
MERRIAM, WILLIAM R. The Census of 1900, 99,
MIKHAILOFF, M. The Great Siberian Railway, 593.
Military Problems in South Africa, 192.
Military Situation in South Africa, The, 145.
Ministry, The Power of Mr. Moody's, 263.
Mistaken Sympathy with Republics, 480.
MIVART, ST. GEORGE. Roman Congregations and Modern Thought, 562.
Modern Persian Literature, 827.
Modern Thought, Roman Congregations and, 562.
MOMMSEN, THEODOR. German Feeling Toward England and America, 240.
Moody's Ministry, The Power of Mr., 263.
MOORE, GEORGE. Some Characteristics of English Fiction, 504.
MURDOCH, JAMES. Japan and Russia in the Far East, 609.

Natal, The Afrikanders in, 212.
National Guard, The Future of the, 730.
Neglected American Poet, A, 694.
Negro Race, The Origin of the, 656.
NEWCOMB, SIMON. Science and the Government, 666.
NORTH, EDWARD P. The Erie Canal and Transportation, 121.
Novels, Some, of 1899, 253.

Obligation of Empire, An, 493.
Olympian Games, The Meeting of the, 802.
OOKHTOMSKY, PRINCE. Great Britain on the War Path, 34.
Origin, Duration and Outcome of the War, 6.
Origin of the Negro Race, The, 656.
Orthodoxy—After Orthodoxy, What? 583.
Our European Trade, 528.
Our Rule in the Philippines, 272.
OWEN, JOHN F. The Military Situation in South Africa, 145.

Parliament, Congress and, 78.
PÉCHENARD, P. L. The End o. "Americanism" in France, 420.
PEFFER, W. A. The Trust in Politics, 244.
Personal Rule in South Africa, The Danger of, 225.
Philippines—A Filipino Appeal to the People of the United States, 54; Our Rule in the Philippines, 272; Eastern Commerce: What is it Worth? 293.
PHILLIPS, CLAUDE. The Picture Gallery of the Hermitage, 134.
Picture Gallery of the Hermitage, The, 134.
Poet, A Neglected American, 694.
Poetry — Poems by Carmen Sylva, 448; "The Shadowy Waters," 711.
Politics, The Trust in, 244.
PORTER, ROBERT P. Our European Trade, 528.
Power of Mr. Moody's Ministry, The, 263.
Powers and the Partition of China, The, 634.
President's War Power and an Imperial Tariff, The, 438.
Presidential Campaign, The Issue in the, 753.
Proposed Hay-Pauncefote Treaty, The, 357.
Puerto Rico, The United States and, 464.

Race Problem, Will Education Solve the, 785.
RADZIWILL, Princess CATHERINE. Cecil Rhodes's Future, 857.
Railway, The Great Siberian, 593.
Realities of the South African War, 305.
REID, GILBERT. The Powers and the Partition of China, 634.
Responsibility of Cecil Rhodes, The, 348.
Republics, Mistaken Sympathy With, 480.
Rhodes, Cecil, The Responsibility of, 348.
Roman Congregations and Modern Thought, 562.
ROSS, E. DENISON. Modern Persian Literature, 827.
RUNCIE, J. E. American Misgovernment of Cuba, 284.
Ruskin, John, 553.
Russia—The Great Siberian Railway, 593; Japan and Russia in the Far East, 609; The Powers and the Partition of China, 634; British and Russian Diplomacy, 871; Antagonism of England and Russia, 884.

SAVAGE, MINOT J. After Orthodoxy, What? 585.
SCHUYLER, MONTGOMERY. A Neglected American Poet, 694.

Science and the Government, 666.
Scientific Method in Theology, The, 575.
"Shadowy Waters, The," 711.
SHEARMAN, THOMAS G. Mistaken Sympathy With Republics, 480.
SHINN, GEORGE WOLFE. What Has Become of Hell? 837.
SHIPPARD, Sir SIDNEY. How England Should Treat the Vanquished Boers, 812.
Siberian Railway, The Great, 593.
Some Characteristics of English Fiction, 504.
Some Novels of 1899, 253.
South African Republic—Origin, Duration and Outcome of the War, 6; England and the Transvaal, 9; England, the Transvaal and the European Powers, 25; Great Britain on the War Path, 34; Some Boer Characteristics, 43; The Military Situation in South Africa, 145; Strategical Problems in South Africa, 168; Military Problems in South Africa, 192; The Dutch in South Africa, 198; The Afrikanders in Natal, 212; The Danger of Personal Rule in South Africa, 225; Realities of the South African War, 305; The Merits of the Transvaal Dispute, 312; The Doom of the Boer Oligarchies, 327; America's Attitude Toward England, 332; Could the War Have Been Avoided? 335; America and the War, 337; The Responsibility of Cecil Rhodes, 348; Why British Workmen Condemn the War, 518; A French General's Defense of the Boers, 538; Why England Should Stop the War, 646; How England Should Treat the Vanquished Boers, 812; Cecil Rhodes's Future, 857.
STANLEY, Sir HENRY M. The Origin of the Negro Race, 656.
STANTON, ELIZABETH CADY. Are Homogeneous Divorce Laws in All the States Desirable? 405.
Stevenson, The Letters of Robert Louis, 61.
STRATON, JOHN ROACH. Will Education Solve the Race Problem? 785.
SYLVA, CARMEN. Poems, 448.

Tariff, Imperial, The President's War Power and an, 433.
TEMPLE, The Rt. Hon. Sir RICHARD. Great Britain in Asia, 897.
Theology, The Scientific Method in, 575.
Townsend, George Alfred. A Neglected American Poet, 694.
Trade, Our European, 528.
Transportation, The Erie Canal and, 121.
Transvaal—Origin, Duration and Outcome of the War, 6; England and the Transvaal, 9; England, the Transvaal and the European Powers, 25; Great Britain on the War Path, 34; Some Boer Characteristics, 43; The Military Situation in South Africa, 145; Strategical Problems in South Africa, 168; Military Problems in South Africa, 192; The Dutch in South Africa, 198; The Afrikanders in Natal, 212; The Danger of Personal Rule in South Africa, 225; Realities of the South African War, 305; The Merits of the Transvaal Dispute, 312; The Doom of the Boer Oligarchies, 327; America's Attitude Toward England, 332; Could the War Have Been Avoided? 335; America and the War, 337; The Responsibility of Cecil Rhodes, 348; Why British Workmen Condemn the War, 518; A French General's Defense of the Boers, 538; Why England Should Stop the War, 646; How Englaand Should Treat the Vanquished Boers, 812; Cecil Rhodes's Future, 857.
Treaty, The Proposed Hay-Pauncefote, 357.
Trust in Politics, The, 244.

United States—A Filipino Appeal to the People of the United States, 54; Our Rule in the Philippines, 272; Eastern Commerce: What is it Worth? 295; The Proposed Hay-Pauncefote Treaty, 357; Are Homogeneous Divorce Laws in All the States Desirable? 405; The United States and Puerto Rico, 464; Our European Trade, 528; The Powers and the Partition of China, 634; Science and the Government, 666; The Future of the National Guard, 730; The Issue in the Presidential Campaign, 753.

VOIGT, J. C. The Afrikanders in Natal, 212.
Volunteer System, The British, 745.

WALDSTEIN, CHARLES. John Ruskin, 553.
War, 449.
War, Origin, Duration and Outcome of the, 6.
We Are Too Much Governed, 367.
What Has Become of Hell? 837.
WHITE, MONTAGU. The Danger of Personal Rule in South Africa, 225.
WHITMAN, SIDNEY. German Feeling Toward England and America, 240; Translation of Poems by Carmen Sylva, 446.
Why British Workmen Condemn the War, 518.
Why England Should Stop the War, 646.
Will Education Solve the Race Problem? 785.
WOODWARD, B. D. The Exposition of 1900, 472.

YEATS, W. B. "The Shadowy Waters," 711.

ZOLA, ÉMILE. War, 449.